

Curved Flamed Paja Roof Tile

The Curved Flamed Paja Roof Tile by STIPL Roofz offers a warm, rustic Mediterranean look with mission barrel design. Ideal for restorations and stylish new constructions.

Curved Flamed Paja Roof Tile – Rustic Warmth Reimagined

The Flamed Paja roof tile brings earthy charm with a touch of rustic fire. Ideal for Mediterranean-style homes and historic restorations, it blends beauty, tradition, and timeless durability.

The Curved Flamed Paja Roof Tile is a celebration of traditional Mediterranean aesthetics combined with enduring craftsmanship. Inspired by the Mission barrel tile design, this two-piece tile offers excellent water drainage, superior breathability, and outstanding resistance to harsh climates.

What sets the Flamed Paja variant apart is its unique warm yellow base enriched with toasted, flamed undertones—evoking a sun-kissed, weathered look that ages gracefully. It's a perfect choice for homes that aim to reflect the old-world charm of Spanish Colonial architecture while embracing modern performance.

Ideal for both restorative projects and new builds, this tile is frequently used in coastal villas, resorts, and culturally themed properties. Exclusively available through STIPL Roofz, and imported from La Escandella, it combines design authenticity with high-grade durability and minimal maintenance.
