

H-Selection Planum Pepper

Planum Pepper tile delivers a bold, speckled look with high performance and broken bond laying. Lightweight, large format, and ideal for modern rooftops.

Planum Pepper – Strength Meets Textured Style

Planum Pepper combines traditional elegance with a speckled, textured finish. Lightweight and strong, it's ideal for efficient roofing with broken bond laying and a bold, modern aesthetic.

The H-Selection Planum Pepper Roof Tile by La Escandella is a bold fusion of tradition and innovation. With its large, flat format and cutting-edge pepper-toned textured finish, this tile enhances modern rooftops with character, strength, and performance.

Favored for its ease of installation, size, and durability, Planum is the most requested tile in the range. Its large dimensions reduce the number of tiles required per square meter, helping save both time and installation costs.

Key features of Planum Pepper include:

UV-resistant, speckled pepper finish
Advanced H-Selection ceramic technology
Lightweight design at only 3.5 kg per tile
Low water absorption and high thermal resistance

Planum Pepper is installed using a broken bond (cross bond) pattern, which not only improves drainage but also adds visual movement and texture to the roof.

Perfect for modern homes, urban villas, resorts, and upscale commercial spaces, Planum Pepper is built to perform and impress.
