Selectum Dark Green – Classic Craft Meets st Elegance

Selectum Dark Green roof tile brings lush aesthetics and durable klinker ceramic together. With FlexiLock precision and timeless color, it suits both traditional and contemporary architecture.

The H-Selection Selectum Dark Green Roof Tile by La Escandella is a premium choice for those seeking bold, nature-inspired design with the proven reliability of klinker ceramic. Its deep green finish brings a refined elegance to rooftops, making it ideal for villas, heritage homes, or eco-conscious architectural designs.

Engineered with FlexiLock technology, Selectum Dark Green allows effortless installation with perfect tile alignment, reducing errors and installation time. Its flexible density—ranging from 11 to 14 tiles per square meter—accommodates varying roof designs with superior water resistance and load capacity.

Crafted using high-temperature firing methods, these tiles deliver exceptional strength, low porosity, and long-term color retention, even in extreme weather conditions. The rich green hue offers a sophisticated contrast to natural landscapes or modern builds, making your roof a visual centerpiece.

Whether you seek rustic charm or contemporary character, Selectum Dark Green delivers beauty, strength, and sustainable performance for decades to come.
