

H-Selection Selectum Slate

Selectum Slate combines klinker durability, FlexiLock ease, and a modern grey finish for timeless, high-performance roofing.

Selectum Slate – Traditional Tile in a Modern Hue

Selectum Slate offers the timeless appeal of traditional roof tiles with a modern slate finish. Enhanced with FlexiLock technology and klinker strength, it's perfect for refined, long-lasting roofing.

The H-Selection Selectum Slate Roof Tile by STIPL Roofz blends timeless European craftsmanship with a sleek, modern color profile. Designed with klinker ceramic quality, this tile delivers outstanding durability, water resistance, and color retention—ideal for both classic homes and contemporary structures.

The FlexiLock system ensures tiles interlock effortlessly, reducing installation time and enhancing precision across any roofline. With an adaptable density of 11 to 14 tiles per square meter, Selectum Slate provides flexibility in both aesthetics and budgeting.

Its cool grey-slate finish offers a bold yet neutral tone that suits everything from minimalist architecture to heritage buildings seeking a modern upgrade. This tile isn't just about looks—it's engineered to withstand the toughest climates, ensuring a reliable, low-maintenance solution for years to come.
