Explore the Mixed Galia Roof Tile at STIPL Roofz – a premium, double-curved Mediterranean tile that ensures elegance, ease of installation, and long-term durability.

Mixed Galia Roof Tile – Elegant Mediterranean Profile

Experience effortless Mediterranean charm with the Mixed Galia Roof Tile. Designed with a double “S” curve, it ensures stylish looks and reliable performance for both modern and classic architecture.

The Mixed Galia Roof Tile offered by STIPL Roofz is a double curvature “S” tile that reflects the timeless beauty of Mediterranean rooftops. With a design that blends form and function, it ensures both aesthetic sophistication and structural integrity.

Perfect for new constructions or historic renovations, the Galia tile delivers an elegant curved pattern that mimics traditional Spanish roofs. The smooth interlocking system and compatibility with ridges and eaves make it easy to install, reducing labor time and ensuring seamless alignment.

Imported from La Escandella, this tile is crafted using advanced ceramic technology to ensure durability, color permanence, and thermal resistance. The Galia tone offers a balanced mix of earthy and warm shades that complements a variety of architectural styles, enhancing the roofscape with a Mediterranean soul.
