

Mixed Milenium Roof Tile

Mixed Milenium Roof Tile from STIPL Roofz delivers Mediterranean charm and durable functionality. Elegant curved “S” profile with a warm terracotta finish.

Mixed Milenium Roof Tile – Timeless Mediterranean Style

The Mixed Milenium Roof Tile blends elegance with ease of installation. Its curved “S” profile captures the spirit of Mediterranean architecture while ensuring strength, weather resistance, and visual harmony.

The Mixed Milenium Roof Tile is a celebration of Mediterranean heritage and modern construction efficiency. Its signature double curvature “S” profile offers both aesthetic distinction and practical benefits such as efficient water runoff, wind resistance, and quick installation.

Designed to emulate the flowing lines and terracotta tones of traditional European rooftops, the Milenium tile elevates any project—be it a luxury villa, boutique resort, or a premium residential development. The color “Milenium” adds a modern yet earthy touch, offering a warm, timeless palette that works seamlessly with both rustic and contemporary facades.

Backed by La Escandella’s advanced manufacturing process and STIPL Roofz’s local expertise, these tiles are engineered for long-term durability, color retention, and compatibility with full roofing systems, including ridges, eaves, and end caps.
