

Mixed Red Roof Tile

Mixed Red is a double-curved S-style tile offering Mediterranean beauty and easy installation. Ideal for timeless, elegant rooftops with modern performance.

Mediterranean Style Meets Easy Installation

The Mixed Red roof tile brings double curvature charm and Mediterranean beauty with modern ease. Straight bond laying and ridge compatibility make it perfect for quick, elegant roofscapes.

The Mixed Red Roof Tile is a beautifully crafted double-curvature S-tile, inspired by the traditional rooftops of the Mediterranean. This tile not only replicates the classic wavy silhouette of terracotta-style roofs but also provides superior installation ease and performance for modern-day structures.

Designed for straight bond laying, the tile fits seamlessly across roof surfaces while maintaining the soft, undulating rhythm that defines Mediterranean architecture. With precise dimensions and excellent interlock compatibility, it assures durability and uniform alignment even on complex roofs.

Weighing just 3.85 kg, the tile maintains structural strength without adding excess load. Eaves and ridge tiles further complement the system, ensuring a complete, weatherproof, and visually rich roofing solution.

Ideal for villas, resorts, heritage homes, and any project that aims to reflect warm, Mediterranean aesthetics with the reliability of contemporary roofing materials.
